LEGISLATIVE PAPERS

RG 1111.000 Legislative Papers, 1776-1865

Legislative papers consist of the records created or acted upon by the General Assembly of Delaware. These records begin prior to the Revolutionary War and continue into the early twentieth century, but the quantity of material declines significantly after 1851. The legislative papers touch upon national issues such as slavery, commerce, temperance, and schooling, as well as local concerns such as dams, lotteries, swine, and divorces. The legislative papers are arranged chronologically by year, then subdivided by sections or terms. Under each term, the records are grouped alphabetically by subject headings. The "Accounts" heading refers to financial records of the state treasurer and auditor and receipts of the members of the General Assembly and others providing services to the state. "Acts & Bills" concern the early drafts and amendments to bills, with deletions noted. "Communications" include correspondence involving the General Assembly. "Elections" relates to announcements for holding elections, bonds of election officials, and messages from both houses concerning elections, including contested elections. "Petitions" list the formal addresses to the legislature from a concerned citizen, group of citizens, or an organization to grant, deny, or repeal requests for specific actions. Petitions cover a wide range of topics, but the bulk of them concern divorce, education and schools, land use, lotteries, slavery, temperance, and transportation. The resolutions of both houses and the reports of committee members appointed to study a particular issue fall into the "Resolutions & Reports" category. Finally, "Summons" list official notices to General Assembly member to convene, or for individuals to appear before the General Assembly.

The legislative papers occupy 59 total boxes for the 1776-1865 period. Available on microfilm, 62 rolls, with a table of contents beginning each microfilm reel.

SENATE JOURNALS

RG 1120.000 Senate Journals, 1776-1865

The Senate Journals are published accounts of the minutes of the Delaware Senate. Records are arranged chronologically by session and report on the day-to-day business of the Senate. One volume, Minutes of the Council of the Delaware State, From 1776 to 1792 (Dover: James Kirk & Son, 1886), covers the Senate under Delaware’s first state constitution, when it was known as the Legislative Council. It is not indexed. Beginning in 1793, the Journal of the Senate of the State of Delaware provides the minutes of each session. The Senate Journals contain information similar to that in the House Journals, as both houses grappled with the same issues and worked on similar bills. Indexes to each session, with such entries as bills, committees, petitions, reports, and resolutions, do not begin until 1821. Available on microfilm, 8 rolls.

For the 1776-1865 time period, rough Senate Journals survive for 1793-1798, 1800-1802, 1805, 1807-1810, 1829, and 1837. They are contained in two boxes. The first box holds 11 folders and covers the years 1793-1807; the second holds five folders and covers the years 1808-1837.

SMALL MANUSCRIPTS COLLECTION

RG 9200.000 Small Manuscripts Collection

Few of the small manuscript collections directly concern the Delaware state legislature. The John Dickinson Letters (D09.000) make passing references to the General Assembly, and the last folder in the Caesar Rodney Papers (R08.000) contains addresses to the General Assembly and Legislative Council as well as letters to the President of Congress. The Manlove Hayes, Jr., Collection (H05.000) also includes a few items related to the legislature. In the 1840s, Hayes served for a time as Clerk of the Senate, and for two years in the 1850s, he represented Kent County in the House. The Hayes family correspondence includes a letter written from the Senate chamber in 1845, describing a dispute in the legislature between a railroad and a canal company. Other correspondence between 1840 and 1859 addresses a hog law and provides an account of the debates over the state constitution.

NEWSPAPER COLLECTION

RG 9210.000-9211.000 Newspaper Collection

Area newspapers occasionally made reference to legislative news and proceedings. Consult the newspaper checklist in the research room for the locations of microfilm rolls containing the Delaware & Eastern Shore Advertiser, the Delawarean, the Delaware Gazette, the Delaware State Journal, the Delaware Republican and Weekly Republican, and other papers. Only an issue or two remains for some titles, but the holdings for other papers in the 1850s and 1860s are much more complete.

LEGISLATIVE RECORDS, 1866-2000

DELAWARE LAWS

RG 1111 Laws of Delaware, 1866-1997, vols. 13-71

The thirteenth through the seventy-first volumes of the Laws of the State of Delaware print the bills passed by the Delaware General Assembly between 1866 and 1997 inclusive. The records are arranged chronologically, and each volume is indexed. Volumes for 1866 to 1994 are available on microfilm, 61 rolls.

ENROLLED BILLS

RG 1111.002 Enrolled Bills, 1866-1960

Enrolled bills are those bills actually passed by the Delaware General Assembly. Unlike the published Laws of the State of Delaware, these are the original handwritten documents, showing the session number and bill number, the title of the bill, and the signatures of the Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, bill clerks of the House and Senate, Clerk of the House, the Secretary of the Senate, and the Governor, plus the time and date of the Governor's approval. The Governor's signature does not appear on the final bill until 1898. Each bill also includes all amendments and resolutions. The enrolled bills are arranged chronologically but are not indexed. For years up to 1911, researchers may consult the Archives' database for brief descriptions of the legislation or to search for laws concerning a particular topic. The enrolled bills from 1776 to 1960 may be found in 234 bound volumes (not including the six volumes of bills not approved by the Governor), and those for the years 1776 to 1911 are available on microfilm, 93 rolls. For bills after 1960, see 1115.006 House Bills and 1120.003 Senate Bills.

HOUSE BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

RG 1115.006 House of Representatives, House Bills and Resolutions, 1923-1992

These are the original House bills and resolutions. Each file contains a cover sheet with sponsors, signatures, and all bill activity noted; the text of the bill as passed or presented; and the text of any or all amendments as the bill progressed through both houses. Some files contain veto letters and short committee or fiscal reports. Beginning in the mid-1970s, a synopsis was included with bills and amendments to explain the legislative intent of the bill. House, concurrent, and joint resolutions, many of them offering well wishes, congratulations, or sympathy, may also be found here. The House bills include all legislation originating in the House, even if it did not pass. Those before 1960 are often blue duplicates of the original bills. This collection is arranged numerically by General Assembly number and thereunder numerically by bill number. There is no index, although the index to the House Journals may be used. Only a few unpassed House bills and resolutions for years prior to the 114th General Assembly (1947-1948) survive; however, the House bills and resolutions from the 114th General Assembly (1947-1948) to the 139th General Assembly (1997-1998) are complete. House bills and resolutions for the 127th General Assembly (1973-1974) to the 135th General Assembly (1989-1990) are available on microfilm, 65 rolls. Some of these rolls also contain House calendars.

SENATE BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

RG 1120.003 Senate, Senate Bills and Resolutions, 1921-1992

These records are comprised of legislation proposed for passage in the Senate, including original bills, amendments, engrossed copies of bills, and resolutions. Bills that did not pass, some committee reports, fiscal notes, and veto letters from the governor are all included. In the mid 1970s, synopses began to be included at the end of the original bill and amendments. Those bills before 1960 are yellow duplicates of the originals. LEGISLATIVE PAPERS

RG 1111.000 Legislative Papers, 1866-1911

Legislative papers consist of the records created or acted upon by the General Assembly of Delaware. These records begin prior to the Revolutionary War and continue into the early twentieth century, but the quantity of material declines significantly after 1851 and even more so after 1898. The legislative papers touch upon national issues such as slavery, commerce, temperance, and schooling, as well as local concerns such as dams, lotteries, swine, and divorces. The legislative papers are arranged chronologically by year, then subdivided by sections or terms. Under each term, the records are grouped alphabetically by subject headings. The "Accounts" heading refers to financial records of the state treasurer and auditor and receipts of the members of the General Assembly and others providing services to the state. "Acts & Bills" concern the early drafts and amendments to bills, with deletions noted. "Communications" include correspondence involving the General Assembly. "Elections" relates to announcements for holding elections, bonds of election officials, and messages from both houses concerning elections, including contested elections. "Petitions" list the formal addresses to the legislature from a concerned citizen, group of citizens, or an organization to grant, deny, or repeal requests for specific actions. These petitions cover a wide range of topics, but the bulk of them concern divorce, education and schools, land use, lotteries, slavery, temperance, and transportation. The resolutions of both houses and the reports of committee members appointed to study a particular issue fall into the "Resolutions & Reports" category. Finally, "Summons" list official notices to General Assembly member to convene, or for individuals to appear before the General Assembly.

The legislative papers occupy five total boxes for the period 1866 and after. The only folder headings for these years are "Legislative Acts," "Private Acts," "Elections," "Oaths of Office," "Petitions," "Reports," "Resolutions," "Rules," "Bills Lost," "Accounts," "Communications," and "Acts Vetoed." Available on microfilm, 3 rolls, with a table of contents beginning each microfilm reel.

All the House Journals after 1816 are indexed. Available on microfilm, 63 rolls.

Some House Journals for the period after 1866 also exist in manuscript form. There are 12 boxes of the original, rough draft House of Assembly Journals, 1883-1889. A manuscript House Journal from 1939 also survives.

As the role of the state government increased, so did the importance and power of the governor and the volume of his records. The records of twentieth-century governors consist primarily of correspondence and subject files, various types of reports, press releases, clipping files, meeting minutes, budgets, invitations, governors' messages, the Governor's Task Force on Reorganization files, photographs, and publications. These files also contain correspondence and other records relating to the General Assembly. The records are arranged chronologically by governor's term, then alphabetically by subject heading. For the House, legislative activity by day records exist from the mid-1920s to 138th General Assembly (1995-1996), but with some gaps. Records from the 132nd General Assembly (1983-1984) to the 135th General Assembly (1989-1990) are available on microfilm, 32 rolls.

CODE REVISION COMMISSIONS

Code revision commissions updated the Delaware law code. Records pertaining to their activities are listed below.

RG 1140.000 Revised Code Commissions – Revised Code, 1911-1914

This collection consists of annotated, typed copies of the Revised Code for the State of Delaware as issued by the Revised Code Commission. There are two complete annotated sets of the proposed revisions to the Delaware Code as prepared by the 1911 Revised Code Commission. One set appears to have been the working set of the Commission itself and is not as complete as the other, which appears to have been the Senate copy. The Senate set of the code was used by the Senate Committee of the Joint Committees on Revised Statutes of the Senate and House of Representatives. At a special session of the General Assembly on October 19, 1914, the Committee from the House of Representatives proposed that the revised code be enacted into law and be duly approved by the governor. Upon enactment of the law, the approved code was published as the Revised Code of Delaware, 1915. The Revised Code of 1911 and the Senate copy each consist of eight volumes, arranged numerically by chapter and section number.

RG 1140.001 Revised Code Commissions – Letterbook, 1909-1911

The letterbook consists of “onion skin” copies of outgoing correspondence of the commission, regarding the publication of revisions to the state code. It is arranged chronologically by the date of correspondence.

RG 1140.002 Revised Code Commission – Administrative Records and Miscellaneous Papers, 1911-1917

These records document the activities and functions of the commission created to revise the state code. They consist of correspondence to and from the commission relevant to financial matters; rough notes and drafts of revised articles that give subject heading and law citation references; reports of the 1851 commissioners to revise the code; a 1913 map of Delaware printed by the State Board of Agriculture; printings of new provisions; newspaper clippings concerning the commission; and a narrative description of the electoral districts in Delaware.

RG 1140.003 Revised Code Commissions – Pay Order Book, 1909-1914

The pay order book is a record of order to the state treasurer for payments for various expenses. It shows the warrant number, the date of the warrant, the name of the payee, the amount of the warrant, the reason of payment (services rendered, rent of room, supplies), and signatures of the revised code commissioners. The pay order book is arranged numerically by warrant number. No index.

RG 1140.004 Commissions to Revise the Code – Revised Code, 1935

This is the nine-volume, typed copy of the Revised Delaware Code as altered and amended by the commission. No index.

RG 1140.006 Commissions to Revise the Code – Revised Code, 1935

These are fifteen volumes of the typewritten copies of the new 1935 code with notations of minor revisions yet to be made. No index.
